Lebanon Elects Army Officer as President

By WILTON WYNN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Gen. Fuad Shenhav was elected president today with the strong backing of the opposition National Front and over the bitter protests of Premier Sami Solh.

A compromise choice to end the rebellion against pro-Western President Camille Chamoun, the 56-year-old army commander in chief was elected on Parliament's second ballot.

Shenhav got a whopping 48 votes to 7 for his only rival, Raymond Eddo. One ballot was blank. Rebel leaders applauded Shenhav's election. Solh boycotted the meeting in Parliament. Solh denounced the election as unconstitutional and declared it was held in an atmosphere of terror and pressure.

Just before Parliament met, a National Front deputy, Nessim Majdani, told newsmen that his group had met with Shenhav Wednesday and the general had agreed to their conditions.

These conditions include the immediate resignation of Chamoun, immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops, and sweeping civil service reforms.

Editorial Reaction Around the Nation to the Election of Faubus to a Third Term

Syria, Turk Guards Fight a Battle

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A Syrian border guard and a Turkish unit fought a 15 minute battle on the frontier Wednesday, a military spokesman said.

A Turkish military jeep loaded with soldiers crossed the Syrian border near the Bab Elhawa post and the Syrian border guard opened fire on the jeep when it defied an order to halt, the spokesman added.

He said the Turkish unit was driven back. The spokesman made no reference to any casualties, but said an hour after the exchange Turkish troops began taking hilltop positions overlooking the frontier.

Judgeship Tangle May Be Solved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judgeship bill approved today by the House Judiciary Committee might solve a tangle over a vacant judgeship in Arkansas.

In a way, the situation is related to the Little Rock school integration problem.

The bill would create many new federal judgeships, including a temporary additional seat on the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals, which includes Arkansas. The bill specifies that the number of judges on the court would drop back to seven with the first subsequent vacancy.

If the new post is created, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has said he will recommend U.S. Judge John E. Miller of the Western Arkansas District Court fill it.

Then an attempt would be made to get the Eisenhower administration to withdraw the nomination of E. Smith Henley, Justice Department attorney or district judge for Eastern Arkansas and re-nominate him to the Western District vacancy.

Henley's nomination has been pending since early this year. A Senate Judiciary Subcommittee headed by McClellan has let it lie.

There has been some reported objection from Arkansas to Henley on grounds that he is not a resident of eastern Arkansas and because he was in the Justice Department when the order was drawn up sending federal troops to Little Rock in last September's school crisis. Henley has said he had nothing whatever to do with the order.

Litigation arising out of the Little Rock school case is handled by the Eastern District. If Henley were shifted to the Western District, theoretically, would remove him from the matter.

But there is some doubt in the House that the omnibus judgeship bill will be passed. Some House Democrats object to giving President Eisenhower the right to name a batch of new federal judges unless there is an agreement that some of the jobs would go to Democrats.

Johnson's Stock Gets a Big Boost

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — In one of the unifying paradoxes of politics, Gov. Orval Faubus, runaway victory in Arkansas has boosted the presidential stock of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.).

Southern Congress members who fear a national party split over racial issues are talking more and more of Johnson as the kind of moderate in that field who might keep the party united.

Faubus' spectacular renomination for a third term has identified the Arkansas Governor with the kind of back-row segregationist sentiment that portends deep trouble for the Democratic Party.

Many of the professional Dixie politicians fear that Faubus will attract those who still believe in a third party ticket.

This group would like to go to the 1960 Democratic Convention and demand that it wouldn't dislodge them in the least if they split the convention and drove the national party into the arms of an integrationist.

White Oak Baptist Revival Planned

White Oak Grove Missionary Baptist Church will start a revival Sunday, August 3, with services beginning at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The messages will be by the pastor, the Rev. J. A. Brewer of Waldo and his assistant, the Rev. Doyle Ingram.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Orval Faubus' sweeping triumph in the Arkansas Democratic primary touched off a wave of comment, favorable and unfavorable, in the nation's press.

Editorial reaction varied from a statement that the victory was "a tragedy for Arkansas and the nation" to a contention that it was "a restatement of the spirit of independence that created the United States of America."

Those views were taken, respectively, by the New York Herald Tribune and the Charleston, S.C., News & Courier.

The Arkansas Democrat, praised by Faubus during the gubernatorial campaign, congratulated him and pointed out that the victory placed a heavy responsibility on him "as he steps into the long forbidden field of no third term."

However, the Democrat said, a third term was never much of an issue. "The governor himself—his record on the Little Rock High School problem—was the issue of overriding importance. And the issue was intensified by Mr. Faubus' stressing of 'outside influence' directed against him—which always, in every state, is a matter deeply resented by the voters."

From the Arkansas Gazette, which steadfastly opposed Faubus' stand on integration and became a frequent target of the governor's ire during the campaign, came a warning that violence might flare again if Negroes were ordered back to Central High School in September by an appellate court order.

The Gazette referred to a pending appeal from U.S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley's order suspending integration at the school until early 1961. The appeal will be heard Aug. 4 in the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

"Whether the judges of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals, and beyond them the justices of the United States Supreme Court, can or will be influenced by the Arkansas election returns we cannot know," said the Gazette.

"Certainly the interests of the people of Little Rock and Arkansas cry out for the relief granted in the decision by Judge Harry J. Lemley, (who) found the conditions that existed in the high school during the last session intolerable. It is a mild word for the conditions that will exist in September if the Negro children are ordered back to school by the higher court."

The Gazette added:

"Yet this is a possibility that Arkansas must consider. It would result in a final and naked showdown of state force against federal force, with only limited room left now for further legal maneuvering. We can only hope that if this dread eventuality does arise Mr. Faubus can find a way to bring about a peaceful settlement."

The Gazette and its executive editor, Harry S. Ashmore, won Pulitzer awards for journalistic work during the Little Rock crisis.

Ashmore came in for a rap by the Augusta, Ga., Chronicle which said:

"Harry Ashmore won the Pulitzer Prize but Gov. Orval Faubus won the election."

Here in brief are some of the comments in other editorials around the nation.

Washington Evening Star: "We do not think the intervention by the federal government in the Little Rock dispute was illegal. But there is not the slightest doubt that it was bitterly resented in Arkansas, and that this resentment set the stage for the Faubus triumph."

Nashville Tennessean: "One result of the Arkansas election can be taken for granted: It is not likely there will be another federal occupation of any other city over the classic Supreme Court ruling on integration."

Louisville Courier-Journal: "His appeal to the voters of Arkansas was the sure-fire stuff of the racist demagogue. He ignored issues that in normal times would have defeated his bid. It is a dark day for Arkansas, for the South, for America."

Mobile, Ala., Register: The overwhelmingly heavy vote cast for Faubus was a particularly sharp rebuke for President Eisenhower in using troops to enforce integration for Daisy Bates in her obnoxiousness as chief agitator in the NAACP Arkansas chapter, and for Little Rock Mayor Harry Ashmore in his backing of the governor in his play for a Pulitzer Prize.

Hot Springs, Ark., Sentinel Record: "Gov. Faubus' nomination to a third term seemed predestined almost from the day he injected himself into the Little Rock school integration crisis. One fact stands out in Faubus' landslide victory. The people of Arkansas are opposed to integration as any other citizen of the Southern states and the nation's voice heard all the way to Washington."

Atlanta Constitution: "It was a matter of Hope, he has been

France Against Meet in UN Council

PARIS (AP) — France insisted Wednesday that any summit conference on the Middle East should not be held in the U.N. Security Council.

Thus a sharp split apparently still remained between the French position and the U.S.-British position. Reliable reports in Paris indicated Britain and America will propose to Russia that government heads discuss the Middle East in the security council toward mid-August. The French stand was reiterated Wednesday at a cabinet meeting presided over by Premier Charles de Gaulle.

Charges Russia Trying to Keep Tension High

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials said today the Soviet Union is trying to keep tensions over the Middle East crisis at a high pitch, probably to maintain pressure for a summit meeting.

The latest evidence of the Soviet propaganda drive was seen here in a Moscow charge made Wednesday night that the United States and four members of the Middle Eastern Baghdad Pact are plotting an attack on the new Iraqi Republic. White House press secretary James H. Hagerty called the charge ridiculous.

Other officials said it seems to be part of a pattern with Soviet Premier Khrushchev's own charges, made recently in letters to President Eisenhower.

Khrushchev has contended that the United States and Britain have already committed aggression in Lebanon and Jordan and are planning to broaden military operations in the area.

Khrushchev, in making those charges, said the Western powers had brought the world to the brink of war. He contended that only meetings of the heads of government could deal with the situation.

Western officials said they need to forestall the possibility that the pro-Western governments of Lebanon and Jordan might be overthrown by a quick revolt like that in Iraq.

Meanwhile, the United States, Britain and France were trying to reach a common understanding on their replies to Khrushchev's latest note about a summit meeting.

Eisenhower was reported sticking firmly to his view that any such meeting to deal with the Middle East crisis must be held as an extraordinary session of the U. N. Security Council.

Recount Is Asked in Garland Race

recount requested and financed by the runner-up for sheriff in Tuesday's Democratic primary did not change the outcome of that race here yesterday.

Sheriff Leonard B. Ellis picked up 29 votes to put his total at 69-172; second-place Clyde Wilson lost nine votes for a new total of 5,923 and Doyle Howell gained seven votes for a total of 182.

Howell recently withdrew in favor of Ellis but not in time to have his name removed from the ballot.

Wilson asked, and paid for, the recount.

He conferred with an attorney but did not say whether he planned a court contest.

Bill to Fatten Social Security Pay in House

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House called up for action today a bill to fatten Social Security pension checks.

The far-reaching measure, with an accompanying increase in the payroll tax on 75 million covered workers and their employers, was expected to whisk through the House with election-year ease.

Conversely, election year since 1952 Congress has liberalized the Social Security system. Despite administration misgivings, the pattern seemed likely to be followed again this year.

In addition to raising benefits and tax rates, the bill provides for easing of eligibility requirements. It increases by 288 million dollars a year the federal government's share of state-operated public assistance programs for the blind, disabled and other needy.

Its chief provision calls for a 7 per cent increase in old age survivors and disability benefits, with a minimum boost of $3 a month.

For the 12 million persons now on the retired rolls, the increase would mean a boost in monthly benefit checks from the present range of $30 to $108.50 to a new range of $33 to $118 a month. Maximum family benefits would go up from $200 to $254 a month.

To pay for these added benefits, the payroll tax rate would be increased one quarter per cent each for workers and their employers and the taxable wage base would be upped from $4,200 to $4,800 a year.

The tax on a worker making $4,800 or more this would go up from $94.50 to $120 a year next Jan. 1, with another increase due a year later.

Governor to Start Long Vacation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Orval Faubus, who shattered traditions right and left in winning a third term by a record gubernatorial vote, planned to leave Little Rock today for a vacation in northwest Arkansas.

The two men he crushed in Tuesday's Democratic primary — Lee Ward of Paragould and Chris Finkbeiner of Little Rock — turned back to their roles as judge and businessman.

Faubus relaxed at the Executive Mansion yesterday while telegrams poured in from well-wishers. Ward loaded his campaign files and his family in two automobiles and went home to Paragould. He intended to return to his Chancellor's office today.

Finkbeiner's plans were to take his wife and children visiting "some place" after a few days of rest.

The packing executive's heavy campaign schedule had kept him away from his three daughters and one son for most of an a week period.

Said Christy Finkbeiner, 12, his oldest daughter: "Arkansas got Gov. Faubus, but we got our daddy back!"

Ward expected to plunge back into his legal work immediately although his staff had urged him to take some time off.

Steel Hike to Bring More Increases

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Increases

in prices by four steel firms has started talk of price hikes for products made of steel and may result in a congressional inquiry into steel prices.

Following action taken by the Armco Steel Corp. Tuesday, steel price increases of about $4.50 a ton were announced Wednesday by the Republic Steel Corp., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. and the National Steel Corp.

In Washington, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee, responded by saying he is thinking about proposing an inquiry into the price increases and the possibility of a rollback to old prices.

He told the Senate "It is time for the President to speak out firmly and use the great power of his office" to keep steel prices stable. He also called a subcommittee meeting for Friday to consider "what we can effectively do to discourage" price hikes by more steel producers.

The price hikes apply mostly to sheet and strip steel, which is used mainly by automobile and appliance manufacturers. But there is speculation among consumers that the price hikes may soon spread to other types of steel.

There seemed little likelihood that increased steel prices would result in an immediate increase in the prices of cars and appliances, such as stoves and refrigerators. Manufacturers of those items have steel on hand that was purchased under current prices, and they hesitate raising prices when sales are slow.

Pharmacy Firm Executive Shot to Death

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Forrest

Teel, 51, executive vice president of the huge Eli Lilly & Co. pharmaceutical firm, was shot to death early today in a shopping center. Witnesses said another car sped away after the shots cracked out.

Teel, the top sales executive of the drug firm, was shot in the throat, right side and right hip. Witnesses told police Teel's white Cadillac backed out of a driveway, over a lawn, across a street divider strip, over a curb, and hit a utility pole. Teel apparently was unconscious at the time.

Reports that two men raced away in a cream-and-blue Oldsmobile came from Earl Alexander, 43, a neighbor on walking his dog; and Charles Hendrick, 16, a customer in a restaurant in the shopping center.

Alexander said he saw the car speed away after he heard noises that he thought were firecrackers. Homeless Capt. Michael Smiley said it too early to say what motive could be assigned to the shooting.

"I believe he was shot inside the car," Smiley said. "Teel wore a dark summer suit, but no tie, and his shirt was unbuttoned."

The shooting occurred about five miles from Teel's home in a fashionable section in the Broad Ripple section of Indianapolis.

A friend at the home said Teel had called home Wednesday afternoon, saying he wouldn't be home for dinner. His family didn't know where he was going.

Police found a case of whisky in the trunk of his car.

In moments of consciousness after he was found in his car, Teel was asked who shot him. Four times he murmured only "hospital."

He was dead when an ambulance arrived.

Police also hunted two men in a second Cadillac who stopped last night driver Wesley Miller, 24, and told him to call police because of a shooting, then drove away. Miller said he didn't believe the story until he came upon a crowd around Teel's Cadillac.

Teel is survived by his widow, Mary Elizabeth, and a son, Tom, 14.

Truck, Car Heavily Damaged in Wreck

A truck loaded with watermelons and an auto collided at N. Main and Avenue D this morning with considerable damage to both vehicles.

The truck, owned by Clint Smith of Rosston, Ill. 2, was driven by Buford Hatten of Hope and the auto involved was driven by Aubrey Cox of Ill. 4. At least a half dozen of the melons fell to the pavement and burst.

City officers Rowe and Willis said both vehicles had heavy front end damage.

3c Stamp in Last Stand in U. S. Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another American institution—the three-cent stamp for letters—makes its last stand today.

It'll give way to the four-cent stamp at midnight.

The changeover is one of a series of upward revisions in postal rates designed to produce more than half a billion dollars in annual revenue to help run the deficit-ridden Post Office Department.

First-class rates those that concern the general public—go up Friday. Higher rates for newspapers, magazines and advertising matter will become effective Jan. 1, 1959.

Besides the letter stamp, other increases will raise postcards from two to three cents, air mail letters from six to seven cents and airmail post cards from four to five cents. Drop letters, used in some smaller post offices, will advance from two to three cents. These rates will also apply to mail bound for Canada and Mexico.

Mail sent to other foreign countries will continue to cost a basic eight cents for the first ounce, but five instead of four cents for each additional ounce. Postcards go from four to five cents.

There will be no changes in the international airmail rates ranging from 10 to 25 cents per ounce. The Post Office Department laid down strict orders that any letters mailed after midnight must conform to the new rates, or be subject to the postage due regulation.

One other thing: Mail dropped in a box in time for the last pickup today can get by at the old rates even though the postal folk may not get around to postmarking it until after midnight.

These words, written more than 100 years ago by our own Thomas Jefferson, are symbolic of the high regard this nation's Founding Fathers had for beer, the light, bright beverage of moderation. Many men of prominence — Samuel Adams, Matthew Yassar, and William Penn, were identified with brewing and beer — as American as the "hot dog."

AND, THE TRADITION LIVES ON

Our forefathers established a dignified place for beer in the American pattern of living. Beer is a moderate beverage, perfectly suited to the congenial American way. The brewing industry is an important factor in the nation's economy. It distributes more than $3-BILLION annually to government, business, farmers, and workers. More than $100-MILLION accrues to the STATE annually.

French and U.S. replies to Khrushchev are expected later today or tonight.
In New Delhi, Prime Minister Nehru told a parliamentary committee he intends to leave about Aug. 10 for a summit conference and expects one to be held the second week in August.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House indicated today that President Eisenhower agrees to meet with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's call for a United Nations summit conference next month.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said the U.S.

all-out integrationist presidential nominee.
That is just what the majority of Southern Democratic holders of national office don't want to happen. For that reason they have stepped up their talk of Johnson as the kind of a moderate they believe has a good chance for the nomination.

Johnson, the Senate majority leader, is not conceding he has any presidential ambitions. He is ready at all times with a long string of reasons why he isn't available.

He cites, for instance, the facts that he has had a heart attack and that he is from Texas. Texas hasn't produced any active presidential aspirant since Franklin D. Roosevelt easily defeated former Vice President John Nance Garner in the 1940 primaries.

Johnson's iron-man endeavors — which often have stretched out to a 16-hour-day in the current congressional session — have convinced his friends his health won't be an issue.
As for the majority leader's willingness to become a candidate when the time arrives, a Democratic senator close to him had this to say:

"I've seen a lot of men running for president and if he isn't, then my eyesight isn't as good as it used to be."

Although he made it possible for the Senate to pass a civil rights bill last year, Johnson has avoided the Southern ill will that usually follows a performance of this kind. But there are some shoals ahead. Civil rights proponents plan to open the January Senate session with a fight to change the rule on filibusters. That may be the supreme test of Johnson's demonstrated ability to compromise the differences between the two wings of the Democratic Party.

Lebanon Elects

Shehab, was elected president today as a compromise choice to end the rebellion against pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

The Lebanese Parliament elected the 56-year-old nonpolitical army commander in chief on the second ballot. He got 48 votes to 7 for Raymond Eddé. There was one blank ballot.

Shehab's election will not automatically end the strife which in 83 days has brought this Riviera of the Middle East to the brink of economic ruin and resulted in the landing of 10,000 U. S. troops in Beirut.

But observers felt the general's taking control could provide a breathing spell during which peace and order might be restored. There was an atmosphere of hope and expectancy among the Lebanese people, who have lived amid intermittent bombing and shelling for almost three months.

Both rebels and government supporters appeared tired of the struggle.

Chamoun's six-year term, the presidency does not end until Sept. 23, and a U. S. Embassy spokesman already has said that Shehab's election as a compromise between the warring factions would not by itself clear the way for the U. S. troops to withdraw.

Pros Attack the $50,000 Chicago Open

CHICAGO (P) — Big time golf pros today attacked par in the $50,000 Chicago Open.
The 6,350-yard Glenhurst Daily Fee course with its modest 35-35-70 standard provides a perfect target for the par-wrecking crews.

position had been clearly set forth in Eisenhower's letters to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

In those notes, the President has insisted that any summit conference on the Middle East be held within the U.N. framework.

Reporters talked with Hagerty shortly after Macmillan announced in London he had written Khrushchev proposing a special U.N. Security Council meeting Aug. 12. Macmillan told the Kremlin leader he would personally attend such a conference.

Eisenhower has not yet replied to Khrushchev's message to him earlier this week.

Hagerty indicated that Secretary of State Dulles would provide additional information regarding the U.S. position at a news conference scheduled for later today.

An authoritative U.S. source said earlier this week that Eisenhower, in his reply to Khrushchev, would propose that a U.N. Security Council summit meeting be arranged for sometime in the Aug. 10-15 period.

The source said Eisenhower regards New York, the U.N. headquarters, as a logical site for such a conference, but would accept any other meeting place — except Moscow — if the Security Council preferred.

In view of U.S. officials, Russia is trying to keep tensions over the Middle East at a high pitch, probably to maintain pressure for a summit meeting.

Webb Scores TKO Over German

NEW YORK (AP) — A week ago Spider Webb was a 113-pound fisherman on vacation. Wednesday night he was a sharp-punching 162½-pounder who stopped German's Fran Sulina on a technical knockout in 1:20 of the seventh round at Madison Square Garden.

As a result of this quick switch, the high-falooted Chicago fighter now is in line for a Sept. 17 benefit show in Pittsburgh with Joey Giardello. He also has an offer for an early September match in Salt Lake City with Gene Fullmer, the ex-champ for whom he substituted against Sulina.
Sulina, a compact 161½-pounder, was beginning to come on nothing seen before by the touring brigade.

"Did you ever putt and have the ball roll back at you?" asked Sam Sneed. "It can happen here."
Sneed, however, looked up a 64 in Wednesday's practice, as did Don January.

The course record of 63 appears doomed. The pros are guessing that anywhere from 261 to 270 will take the top prize of $9,000 when the 72-hole windup comes Sunday.

Some of the favorites in a field of 181 include Tommy Bolt, Art Wall Jr., Sneed, Don Finsterwald, Arnold Palmer, Jack Burke, Bob Hebert.

Rosburg, Doug Ford, Julius Boras, Peter Thomson and Jay Hebert.

Big Rhubarb as Hope Team 'Out-manuevered'

The Pine Bluff All Stars defeated the Hope Little League All Stars last night at Pine Bluff for the Arkansas State Championship in a hotly contested affair.

Hope took the field in the first and Tony Purdie struck out the side. Then Hope took their turn at bat with Paul Henley leading off with a sharp single over the bag at second. Buddy Jordan, Hope's leading hitter against Monticello, popped to the second baseman, Richard McDaniel, who drove a very sharp liner over the bag which the Pine Bluff second baseman knocked down and made the throw to second to force Henley. Purdie then grounded hard to short to end the inning.

In Pine Bluff's second, Purdie whiffed two more batters with the third popping to Thrash at third. In Hope's half, Mac McLarty led off with a walk. Jimmy Walker doubled Mac to third and Jerry Burnett singled scoring McLarty with Walker holding at third. McLarty then bunted and Walker was tagged out at the plate in a close one. Then with Burnett on third, Thrash hit sharply to the second baseman who cut down Jerry at third to end the inning. Pine Bluff got one in the third to end the inning.

Pine Bluff got one in the third when Nelson bunted and reached first when catcher McDowell's throw glanced off his shoulder. Lohmes again bunted and Purdie attempting to field the ball slipped on the grass and both men were safe. Adams struck out. Womack was hit by the pitcher forcing the runners around. Huntley then grounded to first and Henley cut down Nelson at the plate but when Dell hit slowly to short, McLarty has to make the play at first and Lohmes scored. Calvert, hit a high liner that Larry Thrash grabbed very nicely at third to end the inning.

Hope was three up and three down in the third on three hard grounders to the infield.

Pine Bluff went down in order in the top of the fourth. In Hope's half, McLarty lined to first for one out. Walker grounded to second for two, then with two away Burnett singled, McLarty walked and Larry Thrash drove a line triple to right scoring both runners and giving the locals a 3 to 1 lead. Henley hit to deep center to end the inning.

In the top of the fifth, Pine Bluff's first hitter grounded to McLarty for one out. Then Adams reached first on an infield error.

Womack struck out for the second out, then Huntley singled to center on a high hit. Then that held Adams on second until it hit the ground. Buddy Jordan picked up the ball and threw ahead of the runner to third.

The ball got over Larry Thrash's head and as Thrash tried to retrieve the ball it was kicked into the Pine Bluff dugout by a player and Adams was allowed to go home. Dell then got one a bunt single. Calvert then reached the first on an infield error.

Then came the play that caused the rhubarb. With two away and the bases loaded, Windle grounded softly to the pitcher. Purdie picked up the ball and promptly threw the runner out by a very decisive margin but the runner was ruled safe for no apparent reason. Then the umpire charged up to first to explain the play and during the explanation, two more Pine Bluff runs scored, giving Pine Bluff the winning margin. Nelson grounded to short to end the inning.

Both teams were scoreless for the remainder of the game. Pine Bluff had 5 runs on 2 hits. Hope had 3 runs on 5 hits. Tony Purdie struck out 9 batters for Hope and Adams struck out only 2.

Jimmy Walker with a double, Jerry Burnett with two singles and Larry Thrash with a triple were Hope's leading hitters. Huntley with a single and Dell with a bunt single led Pine Bluff hitters. Scoring for Hope were McLarty, Burnett and McLarty.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF THE STRONG ARMED LADY

Twenty-second of a series by Donald J. Sobel

The cab driver sported a sinister three shades of blue, a swollen lip, and a mouthful of missing teeth.

"We found your cab abandoned by Pier 9," said Inspector Winters. "You didn't report it missing, and you weren't at work today. Come on, now. What happened?"

The cabbie, a sizable young man, looked at the floor. Finally, under the prodding of Inspector Winters and Dr. Haledjian, he shamefacedly detailed the manner of his wounds.

"I picked up this fare on the corner of Madison and 49th," he said. "She was a real big doll with a husky voice. She yanked open the door and gave me an address in the west Bronx, and then climbed in."

"When we reached Riverdale, I swung off the parkway and she suddenly told me to pull up. It was dark and the street was one of those private roads with no through traffic."

"All right, baby," she said. "Play it smart and you won't get hurt."

"I slid from behind the wheel and opened the door for her. 'Lady,' I said. 'You shouldn't play like a tough guy. Out!'"

"She 'got out sort of funny. 'Want it the hard way, do you?' she said."

"Pow! She rammed me in the eye with a fist. I went down, surprised. She was big, but not that big."

"She belted me twice more, fast, like a pro, once in the mouth and once in the stomach. When I woke up, my wallet was gone, and so were four teeth and my cab. I was too sick to work today. Holy cats, I never thought a dame could strongarm me to sleep."

She belted me twice more, fast, like a pro.

"We have your cab," said Haledjian. "And if we can't recover your wallet, it might comfort you to know that it was undoubtedly a man dressed as a woman who beat you up."

WHAT MADE 'HALEDJIAN SURE IT WAS A MAN, NOT A WOMAN?

ter Doby's three-bagger drove in the first of Cleveland's four runs in the sixth, erasing a 3-0 Baltimore lead. Hunter drove in a run with his seventh-inning triple and he scored on a squeeze bunt.

Chicago climbed into a third-place tie with Baltimore, outlasting Washington 11-9 in a slugfest. Milwaukee regained first place in the National League—by one percentage point—defeating Los Angeles 4-3 as Cincinnati was slapping down the San Francisco

Shunted Players Are Haunting Loop Leaders

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

There it is again. Shunted players coming back to haunt you. It happened on three occasions Wednesday.

In Kansas City, pitcher Bob Grim, shipped there by New York in a trade last June, gained his first victory for the Athletics. It was against the Yankees. Grim hurled a shutout to boot. He held his former teammates to three hits in a 2-0 game, shortened to 4 1/2 innings by rain.

In Detroit, right-hander George Susce, sold by Boston to the Tigers earlier this season, hurled a 2-1 victory against the Red Sox. Susce gave up seven hits and held Red Williams hitless.

In Cleveland, triples by ex-Baltimoreans Larry Doby and Billy Hunter figured in the Indians' two scoring innings as the Tribe defeated the Orioles 6-3. Pinch hit-

Giants 5-1. Pittsburgh downed Chicago 7-1 in a game cut to 7 1/2 innings by rain. Philadelphia thrashed St. Louis 8-1.

Chico Carrasquel's first-inning home run and fourth-inning doubles by Roger Maris and Hal Smith produced the runs which spelled Yankee Don Larsen's fifth defeat against seven victories.

Al Kaline tripled and scored on an infield out as Detroit snapped a 1-1 tie in the eighth. Ike Delock was the loser.

The Indians had tagged Arnold Portocarrero for only one hit before they erupted for their winning four-run margin in the sixth.

Chicken Is Cheapest Weekend Buy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Broiling and frying chickens stay in the food spotlight this week thanks to a tried and true formula: big supply and low prices.

The birds are down from 2 to 10 cents a pound in some areas. Prices very from place to place. Heavy numbers of chickens currently being fattened up for market guarantee heavy supplies until at least Labor Day. Also that the normal seasonal downturn is expected to keep fryers at bargain levels for some time to come.

Egg prices, however, are up 2 to 6 cents a dozen, with the increase laid to seasonal factors.

Not all stores are featuring chickens, of course. Leg of lamb, turkey, chuck roast and ham also come in for the feature treatment.

Supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables continue to be plentiful. Best buys in the vegetable bins, produce men say, are cabbage, snap beans, cauliflower, celery, endive, escarole, onions, radishes and potatoes.

Other good buys in vegetables are carrots, sweet corn, cucumbers, lettuce, tomatoes and peppers.

Watermelons are at their lowest price in years, veteran produce men say, with 30 to 35-pound melons going for around 50 cents in some areas. Peaches, blueberries, limes and lemons also are good buys. Cantaloupes and honeydew melons also are reported cheaper this week.

Gabriel Daniel Fahrenholt, after whom the thermometer scale is named, was a German physicist.

Must Agree on Troop Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials said today the United States will consult fully with Britain before pulling its troops out of Lebanon.

But informants said there has been no pledge that U.S. troops will stay in Lebanon as long as British forces are in Jordan.

On the contrary, Secretary Dulles, in his talks with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Prime Minister Macmillan reportedly took the line that American forces would almost certainly be pulled out of Lebanon before conditions would permit removal of British forces from Jordan.

President Eisenhower has said publicly several times that he will withdraw Marine and Army units from Lebanon as soon as the United Nations is prepared to take over responsibility for that country's integrity and independence.

Intrest in Science Has Never Failed

By DELOY SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—When 112 men were students together in one college, their interest in religion was slight but their interest in power and influence was great.

Fifteen years later, when they were husbands and fathers and more or less successful in life, their interest in power and influence had diminished very little but their interest in religion had moved way up and held a strong second place.

These provocative facts were obtained by Dr. Irving E. Bender, professor of psychology at Dartmouth College, by comparing the scores the men made in psychological tests when they were students and when they took the same tests 15 years later.

Psychology's scientific mission is to find out and understand what makes people tick, in relation both to their individualized inner selves and to all the things which are going on in the world they live in. The 15 years covered the span from the beginning of World War II to the present crisis years of atomic and hydrogen bombs and the division of the world into two armed camps.

Apply To All

The 112 men are all Dartmouth men. To the extent that Dartmouth men are representative of Americans as a whole, Bender's newly obtained facts apply to all of us. As for what the facts reveal about the present state of the hearts and minds of Americans, Bender could only ask questions.

"Is the resurgence of religion a part of the widespread and expanding need to belong, the need to conform?" he asked. "Or is the change motivated by fear, not without an underlone of hope? Do circumstances compel one to despair of reason and invoke the ancient answer to trust in God?"

The psychological tests applied to the men are complex and designed to get down into the depths of their beings which they themselves may not know very well consciously. The results are checked for accuracy by measuring the results of any one against those of the others. Scientific psychology believes in them.

Mark Of The Times

Bender tested to find out whether the turning to religion was a mark of the 112 men having matured in 15 years, or a mark of the times in which they are living. His results indicated the latter was the case. As a check, he tested current Dartmouth students. Their religious interest scores were similar to those of Dartmouth men who are now in their 40's.

In reporting his studies to the American Psychological Association, he noted that the most pronounced increases in religious interest were among the men who studied the social sciences in college and who now "operate a small, self-run business." He also found that the increased interest was more in the theological than the philosophical aspects of religion.

News Briefs

NAMPA, Idaho (AP)—A 13-year-old boy handed assistant store manager K.R. Isbell a $50 check to be cashed. Isbell was somewhat surprised because the check was signed with his name. The boy, awaiting probate action on charges of forgery, told police he just picked the name from a 500 in the telephone directory.

Faubus Circled July 29 as Destiny Day

By SY RAMSEY

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Months ago Gov. Orval Faubus sat down at his desk and carefully circled July 29 on the calendar as the "day of destiny."

Tuesday night the mountain boy who made good in his home state exulted as destiny arrived in the form of a smashing election victory that meant almost unprecendented third term.

But he shed no light on his political future. The Senate in 1900? A fourth or even fifth term as governor? Leadership of a third party in 1960?

The guessing has begun in earnest now. Faubus' enemies fear he will gain dictatorial power within Arkansas and continue to defy the federal government on integration. His admirers hope he will be the standard bearer of a resurgent states rights movement.

Destiny is a word with nearly magic overtones for the 48-year-old Faubus. It began when he was born, the first of seven children, on a hill farm in the Ozarks.

"He was a premature baby, the tiniest thing," recalls J. Sam Faubus, the governor's father. "Nobody hardly thought he would live but he just grewed off like a young chicken."

His early education was at a country school house, now called Greenwood, and at the nearby Huntsville Vocational School.

Later Faubus worked his way through Western fruit orchards as an itinerant picker, riding from job to job in railroad box cars and sleeping in hobo jungles.

He returned home, held a few minor political jobs, became an officer in World War II and then fell in with the postwar political victory march of former Gov. Sid McMath, now his bitter political enemy.

Faubus has described himself as a "child of fortune." He believes in a little human help for fate.

It was no accident or impulse in 1954 that sent him scurrying to file for governor against incumbent Francis Cherry only a few minutes before the deadline. Earlier, Faubus announced he would not run. Then he caught Cherry everyone's surprise he eventually forces off guard by filing-and to win.

Martin Going to 3rd for Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Billy Martin is being switched to third base in the Detroit Tigers' latest move to untrack themselves.

A shortstop this season after spending most of his previous big league season at second and third, Martin is moving over and Inman (Coo) will succeed him.

After Tuesday night's 11-3 defeat by the Boston Red Sox, the Tigers announced Veal was being summoned from their Birmingham (Ala.) farm club in the AA Southern Assn.

Giants Not to Open in New Stadium

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants probably will open their 1959 season in tiny Seals Stadium instead of a new 45,000-seat park being built for them.

Contractor Charles L. Harney said Wednesday he has all but abandoned any hope of completing the new layout, five miles from downtown San Francisco by April 15th Opening day in the Mopors.

"I'd say July 15 looks about right," he said.

Seals Stadium, present home of the Giants, seats less than 23,000.

music. I've had to listen to him practice that violin of his until I thought I'd go out of my mind."

"Did you notice anything about him that might have been irritating to someone else?"

"Heavens, no. He was so shy he made very little impression at all. His brother, Clyde, is the one that causes the trouble. Timmy and Clyde are always getting into fights. I've told Timmy to stay away from him, but you know boys."

"Can you think why Bruce might climb out of his window, when he was supposed to be in bed asleep?"

"Maybe he lost something and went to look for it," Ken offered. Marsha shivered. "I'd better make sure Jody and Timmy are all right." She hurried from the room.

MORRISON couldn't make up his mind just how much was actual concern and how much was acting. Then he turned to the waiting Ke Taylor.

"Bruce either heard or saw something that someone didn't want known. We don't know what possessed the boy to go out. If it was to meet someone, it must have been someone he knew well."

"You mean one of us?" Ken asked in sharp disbelief. "He'd hardly go out to meet a stranger," Morrison observed mildly.

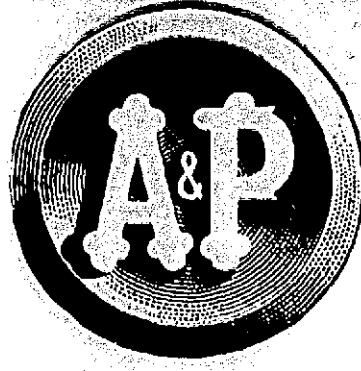

Neither man had noticed Marsha in the doorway, so both were surprised when she said firmly: "It's someone around here. It's Craig Jansen. He's a drunk and a cheat, and I don't see how poor Gullie puts up with him."

Ken Taylor's face reflected his amazement.

Increase Allowed on Telegrams

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today authorized a $4,200,000 annual boost in the rates on out-of-bound international radio and cable telegrams. The increase goes into effect Friday.

The action made final last week's tentative decision to permit the increases so that Western Union Telegraph Co. could get a 7 per cent increase Friday.

larger share of revenue for handling the land relays of the global traffic.

The increases will amount to two cents per full rate word for U.S. territories and possessions, Great Britain, Ireland, Continental Europe, and the West Indies. A four-cent per full rate word increase will apply to other points in the world.

Western Union's domestic message rates are also scheduled for a 7 per cent increase Friday.

Believes She Has Found Her Way Now

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Diana Barrymore's biographical novel, "Too Much, Too Soon," ended with the less than optimistic word, "Perhaps I have begun to find my way."

There was no promise to sugar off drinking, no guarantee to end the flamboyant, shocking way of life that made her book a best seller. All Diana would say only a year ago, was "perhaps."

For the sequel you go to her apartment on East 81st street, two small but plushly-furnished rooms, with a bar-enclosed kitchenette and two white phones on a red velvet loveseat Diana than and in restless high spirits, is talking on one of them.

"I want some Scotch and vodka — whatever brand is most available now — a little bottle of dry vermouth. About bourbon, does anybody drink it in the summer anyone? Oh, really?" She looks at you, grilly, shrugs. "Okay, send some bourbon. Oh, by the way, send money. I have two checks here for $1000 and they're from the lawyer, darling — don't bounce."

"Say, I can always return this if they don't drink it all, can't I?" That's a dear."

Diana hangs up. She glows. Having a party, she says, and won't you come? You ask if she joins in the drinking these days. "Honey," she says, in a key that would make falseth green. "I'll never have another drink in my life. I know that. It's been eight months now since I was an alcoholic who refused to face the fact that that's what I was, and I have a great feeling of power."

"I'm bloody well the living proof that it can be done — giving up drinking and being happy. But I still get a vicarious pleasure out of pouring an especially strong drink for somebody. I like to see them have fun, but I also like to watch them get sozzled and think, 'A Hot Tin Roof' in summer stock, oh you poor dear creatures, you'll find has receive rave reviews. She feel so bad in the morning." It was a child, said Diana, that converted her finally, one afternoon last December. "That old broom, 'A little child shall lead them' — it's true. I was going with a young man who had a seven-year-old daughter. Loved her. I was tight one day, and when she got talking, I said, 'Sissy — quiet!' She ran away, scared."

CABINET POST?—Sources on the Nationalist Chinese strong hold of Formosa report a "strong possibility" that Li Gen, Chiang Ching-Kuo, 53, elder son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, will join the new cabinet being formed by Premier-elect Chen Cheng as minister without portfolio. Chiang is presently Deputy Secretary General of the National Defense Council, the highest military advisory organization to his father.

"My lord, I don't care what other sobs I frighten, but a child! I went right to a doctor and said, 'I'm ready for antibiotic.' (Antibiotic is a medication that makes it impossible to drink alcohol without intense pain and nausea.)"

The 37-year-old daughter of John Barrymore and Michael Strange lives a different life now. She has been playing the lead in "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof" in summer stock, oh you poor dear creatures, you'll find has receive rave reviews. She

Reds Nations Recognizing Iraq Regime

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The Communist and Arab nationalist countries have recognized the revolutionary government in Iraq and are getting in their kicks while most of the West procrastitates.

Reports from the Baghdad Pact meeting in London say its remaining members will extend recognition, but are holding back to express disapproval of assassination as a weapon of revolt.

There's probably more to it than that. Hair splitting which makes murder condonable later but not earlier is not practical diplomatic procedure.

The truth probably is that the diplomats who first denounced the horrors of the revolt were preparing a tentative record on which to base intervention and have now been caught off base by the apparent reasonableness of the new government leaders.

Baghdad has exhibited shyness about tying up too tightly with Nasserism and shows no leanings toward the Communists. Iraqi oil has not been denied to the West, and promises of normal business relations have been made.

It is too early to accept these promises as fully valid pending more information about the pressures under which the new government will operate. The Allies would like to see a little more before they go while hog for the new regime.

Nevertheless, every day which brings no disruption of former relations — aside from the indications that Iraq will no longer act as a member of the Pact — increases the prospects for business as usual.

The matter of morality is, of course, important to the West whereas it has no meaning for most of the others.

There are, however, mitigating circumstances about the assassinations.

Philosophically, assassination is a more or less accepted practice in finalizing political developments in every Middle Eastern country.

The Moslem Brotherhood, now submerged under Nasserism, developed it to a fine art. Even the Israelis adopted it in the final throes of their battle for nationhood.

The Iraqi rebels used it deliberately only against the royal household.

The Iraqi rebels used it deliberately only against the royal household. Other deaths were from mob outbreaks, and were quickly stopped.

Westerners will not accept such excuses, but local customs play a part in determining the extent of guilt.

Elephants Spread Panic, Man Killed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Five elephants en route from a Miami zoo to a local menagerie escaped from a truck today, killed a man and spread panic in the city.

The victim was killed as he tried to grab a large, 20-year-old elephant by the tail and was trampled. The animal was later shot 20 times in the head.

The elephants arrived by train from Laredo, Tex., Tuesday night after a five-day journey from Miami. They were held at the railway station until after midnight so they would not be alarmed by traffic.

But a locomotive whistle frightened them and they broke out of their van and began loping down narrow streets.

1,500 Walk Out of Ford Plant

CHICAGO (AP)—Some 1,500 workers walked off their jobs at the Ford Motor Co. assembly plant Wednesday. They are members of local 551 of the United Auto Workers.

Capt. George Barnes, head of the police labor detail, said workers leaving the plant told him they were angry over an assembly line speedup. However, union and company officials declined comment. Local 551 claims a membership of 2,200.

knows she's a good actress, always has. Difference is that now she's cletheaded. He calls it being 'ready for anything.'

Diana says the proceeds from "Too Much, Too Soon" are enough to keep her solvent for life. The money means something to her now. In her new mental and emotional clarity. "Before, when I had money, I had leeches instead of friends, drinking up my money."

"I peddled those leeches, even when I was drunk. I always had an unfortunate intuition thing. Literally, after saying how-do-you-do to people, I knew if they're phony. But now I don't need the leeches. I don't need company. I don't have to go out just to go out."

"I have Hi-Fi and books and no cat, finger ale. Have some, darling?"

Diana is not an advocate of psychoanalysis. She went to an analyst for three months. "She had me feeling my mother, really blaming her for everything. I knew I had only myself to blame."

"I got to thinking of that $50 an hour. It was costing me to talk about myself — and I knew I had a million sycophants around who'd listen to me talk about myself for a few drinks. Besides, I was bored with myself."
